MR, AND MRS. BAGIOLI IN THE PRISON-WHEN SICKLES WILL BE TRIED.

Corresopudence Philadelphia Press. WASHINGTON, March 1, 1859. I visited the prison where Mr. Sickles is confined, this morning, about 111 o'clock, and found him engaged is convertation with Mr. and Mrs. Bagioli, the parents of Mrs. Sickles, and Mr. Charles K. Graham, Engineer of Mrs. Sickles, and air. Charles R. Graham, Logitaes in the Brooklyn Navy-Yard, a particular friend of Mr. Sickles. The conversation lasted some thirty mioutes and, judging from the broken sobs escaping the room must have been of a most affecting character. Pres must have been of a most affecting character. Presently, Mr. and Mrs. Bagioli emerged from the room in which Mr. Sickles for the present is confined, until a cell can be properly fitted up for him. She is a fine-looking woman, rather well advanced in years, and was leaning on the arm of Mr. Graham, and sobbing in a most violent manner. Mr. Bagioli appeared to be more composed, although apparently quite affected. The party stepped into a carriage outside the prison, and rapidly drove off. What the particulars of this conversation may have been, i did not learn. It must certainly have been heartrending in the extreme, and the effect was vible in Mr. Sickles, he being unable to centrol his feelings for some time after the party had left the prison. It was, indeed, a sad sight, and one long to be impressed upon my memory.

had left the prison. It was, indeed, a and aight, and one long to be impressed upon my memory.

Quite a number of the friends of Mr. Sickles have visited the prison this morning, many of whom are from New-York City. A certain selected few are admitted to his room—those connected by family ties and those of relationship. Many, however, as it should be, are unable to gain admission, but cards are left at the prison gate to an alarming extent. I do not know that I ever saw such a feeling of friendship. not know that I ever saw such a feeling of friendship existing upon the part of acquaintances and strangers toward an individual pisced in the circumstances of Mr. Sickles; and while all lament the unfortunate oc-currence of this transaction, still, at the same time, the feeling of sympathy is most intense. This fact may be taken as the reason why Mr. Sickles is en-abled to bear, under this heavy affliction, without evincing any of those emotions incident to individuals in his position.

While I was at the prison this morning, a gentle man, cerrying a portfolio under his arm, entered, and introduced himself to the juitor as one of Frank Leslie's artists, who had come for the purpose of making drawings of the prison-room in which Mr. Sickles is

At the present time there is confined at this prison

RAIN-FALL.

To the Editor of The N. Y. Tribune. Siz: What I intended to say at the Farmers' Club on the 28th February on comparative rain-fall of England and this country was, that we have not only greater quantity of rain in the year, but much greater amounts in single days. One inch in 24 hours is a great rain-fall in England, while in this country we, not unfrequently, have two or three inches. In one instance on record there fell at Waltham, Mass., six and eighty-eight hurdreths inches of run in 24 hours, which is the greatest rain fall that I have any knowledge of. This was on the 7th and 8th September, 185 March 2, 1859. H. F. FRENCH.

The Board of Education held a stated meeting last evering, Mr. Warren, the President, in the chair.
Mr. Green called for the reading of the minutes of Mr. White then moved to dispense with the readin, and called for the yeas and nays.

The motion was lost by 22 to 3, and the Clerk proceeded to read the orth parties, when there was a compromise; Mr. Eager was elected Chairman of the Committee, and Mr. Farr, Secretary. This consumed the first hour of the session.

Mr. Watkhular was not surprised that the gentleman's political associations (Mr. Adams is a Republicae) should render him sensitive on the point of ventiation, in a building of this character. He accepted Mr. Adams's motion.

In the course of another half hour, $1,500 was appropriated to buy a house in Seventy-nioth street, ad-joining three lots which were purchased at the last meeting at the same price.

The old Fourth Ward swindle was then taken up, on a motion to appropriate $25,151 for a school-building in Oliver street, near Cherry, the ground for which was made to cost $30,000.

Mr. TUCKER said that he had visited the site purchased, and he did not understand how it was possible that the Fourth Ward School officers could be unanimous upon that location. It was one of the filthiest places in the city, in a sanitary as well as in a moral point of view. He would send no child of his to a places in the city, in a sanitary as well as in a moral point of view. DESTRUCTIVE FIRE AT STAMFORD, CONN.
On Tuesday morning last, the grist-mill owned by Messrs. Quintard & Whitney (proprietors of the Morgan Iron Works, N. Y.), situated on Mill River, opposite the Rippowam Iron Foundery, Stamford, was discovered to be on fire, and before the flames could be subdued the building was nearly destroyed, together with much valuable machinery and a large quantity of grain. The grain belonged to Mr. Erastus Scofield, the lessee. The building was insured to some of the the leasee. The building was insured is some of the Hartford and Springfield offices to the amount of 3,000. The fire, which was first discovered in the econd story, is supposed to have originated from the heat engendered by the smut machine. By the exertions of the firemen, the adjoining buildings were saved from destruction.

CITY ITEMS.

BULL's HEAD .- Our anticipations of Tuesday were exactly realized yesterday, as may be seen in the regular cattle market report. The prices receded fully half a cent a pound from the prices of the week previous-the best beeves selling at prices only equivalent to 104 211c. a pound for the meat. Considering that the butcher makes the hide, tallow and offal clear, we do not see the necessity of his charging 18 cents a pound for ordinary rib roasts. But a small portion of the 3,643 bullocks in market this week will sell for the above prices. Good fair market retailing beef cattle sold at 9@10c., and a great many coarse ones at 8@8jc. The cattle brokers and others well posted as any body can be about this fluctuating, uncertain market, are now pretty well satisfied that the high prices hoped for by speculators who have bought cattle at the West at cents a pound gross, are not very likely to be realized. Two depressing markets, at the very time when a rise was articipated, are calculated to rather dampen the arder of speculators, except such as one noted in the report this week, who sold cattle yesterday at some $17 a head less than cost.

We call attention of all who frequent such entertainments to the ball at the Academy of Music this even ing. It is for the benefit of the Nursery and Child's Hospital, one of the most deserving charities of the city; while the eminent social position of the ladies under whose direction it is given, renders it certain that it will be arranged and conducted in the most satisfactory manner. She has talent, but it is like the gold in quartz veins-all in the rough; and see must undergo the refining process of intelligent and critical audiences before she can hope to become an actress. She must correct another grave error at once, and that is her style of dressing in Protean pieces. When people go to the ballet, they expect to see a posuliar and questionable freedom in the toilet; but that style ought never to be misstated, much less outstripped, upon the legitimate style-not even on the eastern side of the city. There is a hearty earnestness and dashing style about Miss or Mrs. Mencken, which, under proper training, gives promise of better things; but, like most Western mental products, she wants taming down.

THE BOND-STREET HOMEOPATHIC DISPENSARY .-By the fourth armual report of this justitution, it appears that during the year ending Feb. 1, 2,077 cases ave been treated, and 8,276 prescriptions have been dispensed. A detailed statement is given of all the cases that have come under the notice of the physicians, from which we learn that 1,563 patients have been cured, 73 relieved, 7 died, and in 266 cases the result is unknown. This institution was founded by Dr. Otto Fullgraff some years ago, and is sustained entirely by private subscription, obtained through his personal application. The total expense last year was only $077, of which but $140 were for medicines and medical apparatus. Dr. Fullgraff estimates that every subscriber has furnished medical attendarce and medicines for more than twenty patients during the year; and certainly, the results here set forth must induce all the supporters of the dispensary to renew their subscriptions for the present year. The lispensary is indebted for its existence and success entirely to the energy of its founder, who is determined that Homespathy shall have a fair trial with Allopathy, in dispensary practice at least. He is aided by many of the best Homeopathic practitioners in the city, who give their personal attention to the dispensary every day from 2j to 4j p. m.

SHOCKING WIFE MURDER .- A most revolting attempt at wife murder occurred in Forty-seventh street, yesterday afternoon. The would be murderer was Kelly, a brutal Irish porter house keeper. About 3 o'clock he went to his house in Forty-seventh street, near Sixth avenue, in a state of intoxication. His wife reproved hun for coming into her presence in such a state, whereat he seized an iron shovel and assaulted her with the ferecity of a savage. In spite of her shricks and cutreaties, he struck her upon the head with the shovel, and would have clove through her ecall had she not broken the force of the blow with her arms. She clung to him and begged for life, but he thrust her from him, and renewed the attack. In a few seconds he had inflicted two frightful gashes in her cheeks, cut her nose nearly off, and laid her skul bare in several places while she lay upon the floor. She tried to crawl away from the madmar, but he followed her up, repeating his blows until the floor and farniture of the room were covered with blood, and the poor woman lay senseless and apparently dead. He then went to the grate, and with his bloody shovel took out the live coals and heaped them upon the body of his wife. This accomplished, he sat down pear the body, glosting over his bloody work, while the cotton garments of his wife burst into flames. He was sitting in the same place, his hands and clothing red with gore, apparently enjoying the spectacle, when the officers and neighbors came in. After extinguishing the flames they found that there was still some little life left in the woman, and sent immediately for a physician. Officer Whitmore took the prisoner before Justice Kelly, who held bim to await the result of his wife's injuries. The woman is not expected to recover. Kelly keeps a low porter-house at the corner of Leroy and Washington etreets, and is a man of about forty years of age.

A RUFFIAN IN AN OMNIBUS -Last evening, about 81 o'clock, as one of the Dry Dock stages was coming down East Broadway, a dispute arose between the driver and one of the passengers about some change. The fellow, who were a cap and drab firecost, insisted upon the driver giving him more money than he had received from a quarter of a dollar. The driver stated that he had passed the requisite amount to the passenger, whereupon the latter swere that he would have satisfaction. Just as the stage was approaching the unction of Canal street and East Broadway, the reffian drew from his pocket a revolver, and, with the but of the weapon, began to break the windows, and, at the same time, pulled the strap hard enough to drag the driver through the paybole. The driver lustily cried for the Police, the stage was suddenly stopped, consternation seized the passengers, among whom were several ladies, but still the rascal kept on smashing the windows. After he had demolished six panes of glass, he cut the strap which held the door, and deliberately walked down Canal street, and escaped. The sight of the revolver, the pessengers allege, prevented any interference with the scoundrel in his destruction of the stage property and his subsequent

They had drawn knives and pistols and threatened to beat the complainant. DECISION.

Supplies S. Van Zandt agt. Jared Linsley, &c.

ROOSEVELT, J.—The deed from Van Zandt to Linsley, by its torms, created an extate in fee in the latter, to be held by him to trust for the use of Mrs. Van Zandt, as if she were an unmarried woman, but only "during her matural life," and on her dealt to revert to her husband if riving, and, if not, to the issue. Such a deed, although creating an authorized trust, is not absolutely coid. It weeks, if is true, an extate "in the function," but the law declares that "the person entitled, by virtue of the grant, to the possession and profits of the land in law of equity, shall be deemed to have signal extate therein of the same quality and duratives, and abject to the same conditions as his beneficial interest." (4 47 42) iers as his hereficial interest." († 47 44).
The effect, therefore, of the deed was to create a legal estate in Mrs Van Zandt for life, with two alternative contropest renainders in fee to the husband or the issue, as the event might mainders in fee to the husband or the issue, as the event might be.

The power of sale given to the trustees, to be exercised only with the concurrence of Mrs. Van Zandt, does not enlarge by implication the estate expressly limited for life. Such an interpretation would make the instrument inconsistent with itself. In case of a sale, the deed assumes by its allence that the proceeds would stand in the piece of the land, and that the respective interest in them would be "of the same quality and duration" as those in the land.

Mis. Van Zandt's claim, therefore, to the absolute ownership of the mortance taken on the sale was clearly unfounded, and her bill was therefore properly dismissed.

Journment of Special Perm simply affirmed with costs, unless the painfill elects to have a provial programment, with proper directions for the security of the find and payment of the income, in which case her comment will prepare a draft to be estiled by the presiding Judge.

COMMERCIAL MATTERS.

WEDNESDAY, March 2-r. M.

With a fairly active market, the downward turn of yesterday afternoon continued to-day, but the decline was not very important. The change in the tendency of the market appears to have resulted from the process of realizing profits by a portion of the originators of the rise of last week, which has thrown more stock on the market than it could absorb. Some of the principal shorts had supplied themselves, which weakened the demand, and, under the circumstances, the market certainly showed considerable vertebræ. There were some symptoms yesterday that outsiders were more disposed to join in the movement, but the turn in the tide of speculation noticed to-day has materially checked this disposition, and the commission houses appear to be rather sellers to day that buyers. New-York Central sold to the extent of 3,500 shs., closing at a slight decline on yesterday's price. The bears did not appear disposed to put out options freely, and only 500 shares were sold on long sellers' option. The unusually early opening of lake navigation will have a favorable influence upon the traffic of this road and of the Erie. Reading was not active, but was well sus-Harlem Preferred was steady at 394. A sale of Second Avenue was made at par. The April dividend of 2 * cent is already earned. Pacific Mail continued heavy and fell off to 761, the bears making a fresh attack upon it. The advices from Washington are that Mr. Vanderbilt will probably be defeated in his attempt to obtain the mail contract. The Western shares were heavy, under free pplies of stock, and some of the bears appeared disposed to press the market to still lower points. At the Second Board there was a fair amount of transactions, and prices were again a trifle off, but in closing traceactions there was a better feeling, and more disposition shown to buy the leading fancies. One or two of the late operators for the rise came in to sustain prices, and after the regular session there was quite a buoyant market, bigher prices being estab heled for nearly every description. The fea-Mail, which, under moderate purchases, advanced to 774 b.d. The street rumor was that Mr. Vanderbilt is seriously ill, which may prevent the running of the opposition line. The demand for Cumberland was good, and nearly 500 shares sold at 24, an advance of | F cent, closing at that bid. Some outside parties who have been examining the condition and prospects of this Company have of late been buying considerable parcels of stock to held for the results of the business of the next year or two. Central sold as low as 80], but closed at 801 bid. The Western shares were not active, but strong. In Bords, the transactions to-day have been to fair extent, at about previous prices. Some $70,000 Teopersees sold at 901 Missouris were 851. A rale of Government 5s, 1874, was made at 163}, and but a small amount could have been had at that figure. At at private sale $10,000 Minnesota 8 P cents sold at 105 and interest. At the close the market was a rising one at the following quotations: Tennessee 6s, 90 P 904; Missouri 6s, 854 @ 854; Virginia 6s, 961 2961; Canton Company, 201 201; Delaware and Hudson Canal Company, 99 w 994; Cumberland Coal Company, 21 2241; New-York Central Railroad, 80] @80]; Erie, 12]@12]; Harlem, 12]@13; Hudson River, 32[#32]; Reading, 49; #49;; Michigan Central, 514 #514; Michigan Southern, 184 #184; Michigan Southern, Preferred, 48 2484; Panama, 1164 2 117; Illinois Central, 69 #694; Galena and Chicago, 704 2704; Cleveland and Toledo, 294 3294; Chicago and Rock Island, 61 | # 61]; Milwaukee and Mississippi, 121@121; Illinois Central 7 & cent bonds, 1875, 894 & 894; Pacific Mail, 774 @774.

In regard to this enterprise, we can say that nearly all of the capital ($200,000) has been already pledged, without outside help, or even the isual preliminary promises of loans or patronage. It is strictly a cash concern, and is in the hands of a most respectable and efficient Board of Directors. The capital of the Home Insurance Company -- one of the most successful companies over established in this city-has been increased to a million of dollars, paid up in cash, and has, in addition, a surp'us of $300,000. The Company insures against loss or damage by fire. The list of directors contains the names of many of our most prominent business men. The Corn Exchange Fire Insurance Company has declared a dividead of 10 P cent, payable on demand. The Grocer's Insurance Company, a semi-annual dividend of 6 e cent, payable on demand. Mesers. The receipts as compared with 1857 show a falling off of $55,767 45, or 25 P cent. The capital stock of the Company is $1,000,000. The funded debt is $600,000, and its floating debt $246,365 90. The road is a single track 40 miles long, running from Milwau-ace to the Illinois State line. The cost of the road has been $1,830 073. The report gives the aggered statement of the manner in which the road came into the possession of Bishop & Co.:

On the 25th day of November, 1857, a firmer Board of Directors had "resolved that the Company issue its honds for a 190,000, to be accompanied by a mortgage on the property and fraunties of the Company, for the purpose of funding the doubling debt of the Company."

to be accompanied by a mortage on the property and 'an insect of the Company, for the purpose of funding the floating debt of the Company, for the purpose of funding the floating debt of the Company, and the Directors of the Company, February 8, 1838, it was reacted "that said bonds under said mortages" for $400,000, "he and are hereby made collaters security to the floating debt of this Company held or Indered by Sistep and Company, for the payment of said floating debt held and indered by them."

At a neseting of the Directors, March 7, 1251, it was "resolved that Harvey North, the President of the Milwaukes and Chrisage Rallroad Company, so authorized and supporesed that Harvey North, the President of the Milwauke and Chrisage Rallroad Company, to surface the arrange, regolists and provide for the floating debt of the said Company, and, in the name of said Company, to sorrow money, negotiate the bonds and other securities of said Company, according to hit discretion." It was found to be impracticable to regolist the securities of the Company, excepting at rates which the Company could not accept. A scheme was them proposed to the stockholders that they should surrounder a certain amount of stock, say at 61.9 cent, pay a balanne in each of any 46.9 cent, and take the bonds at pay, by this plan $150,000 would have been realized by the Company, while, on the other hand, the Company's bonded obligations would be increased $100,000 (interest at 5 % cent $7 smoom, psyable semi annually in New York. Circulars were issued to the stockholders, coataining explanations of the proposed plan. The bonds were outsien, probably, in view of the Insequancy of the sun proposed to be readzed on the one hand, and the largely-increased obligations proposed to be assumed by the Company on the other hand.

obligations proposed to be assumed by the Company on the other hand.

The rates of interest demanded in New York, where the flusting debt was being "carried," were such that the business of the road could not continue to pay it if it had been considered expedient by the managers to have done so. The proposition was therefore made by the Company to Bishopk Co., who were creditors and indorsers to the amount of about $225,903, to take possession of the road under a mortage—the terms of which should be, they working the road to the best advantage. First, the payment of the current expenses of working the road. Second, the payment of the interest of $400,600 second mortages a result of the forest of $400,600 second mortages a result of the forest of $400,600 second mortages in sid of the Green Bay, Milwankes and Chicago Raifroad, interest? A cent. Third, the payment of the interest upon the disting debt at 7 $2 cent, and to pay the obligations of the Company for current expenses, if any existed previous to the date of the mortage. Fourth, the behaves of extrings, after the payment of the foregoing, to be applied toward the payment of and reducing the finaling debt.

This proposition was accepted by Bishop & Co., the mortages was executed on the Tod June, and on the Ed June, 1858, by the terms of the mortage, Bishop & Co. became mortagees in possession of the road.

By the terms of the mortage, the mortagees are bound to report monthly to the officers of the Company to do so.

The Detroit Frx Press says:

This invalidation is the start of Milebiugani, the the officers of the Company to do so.

The Detroit Free Press says:

"This institution, (the State Bank of Michigas), the first fruits of the general banking law of thus State, has gene into active operation. The banking house is in the building on the south-east corner of Jefferson avenue and Griswold street, formerly occupied by the Michigan Insurance Company Bank. The new bank has a capital of $50,000, and its notes are secured by a deposit of public stocks, as required by law. We have been shown some specimens of its notes, which are printed on what is known as the "Lymnis protection" plan, which consists in grading the portion of the bill covered by the note proper according to the denomination of the bill; thus the one soilar notes cover a quarter of the bill, the 2s a half, sod so on, It is pronounced to be an effectual preventive of alterais pronounced to be an effectual preventive of altera-tions. In consequence of the open condition of Lake Erie, and the prospect of the resumption of savigation a month earlier than last year, the four railroad Presidents have appointed an early day (the 16th inst., at Buffalo) for fixing the Summer rates.
